

The book was found

(Un)Qualified: How God Uses Broken People To Do Big Things

Synopsis

Who you think you are is not as important as who God says you are...
Many of us wrestle with the gap between our weaknesses and our dreams, between who we are and who God says we are meant to be. We feel unqualified to do God's work or to live out the calling we imagine. But God has a way of using our weaknesses for good. In fact, God loves unqualified people.
In (Un)Qualified, Pastor Steven Furtick helps you peel back the assumptions you've made about yourself and see yourself as God sees you. Because true peace and confidence come not from worldly perfection but from acceptance: God's acceptance of you, your acceptance of yourself, and your acceptance of God's process of change.
This is a book about understanding your identity in light of who God is. It's a book about coming to terms with the good, the bad, and the unmentionable in your life and learning to let God use you. It's about charging into the gap between your present and your hopes and meeting God there. After all, God can't bless who you pretend to be. But he longs to bless who you really are; a flawed and broken person. Good thing for us that God is in the business of using broken people to do big things.
Being unqualified is God's favorite qualification...
Our culture tells us that the answer to our failures is to fix them. The solution to our weaknesses is to hide them. The secret to our success is to appear as flawless as possible. But God's qualifying system is different than the world's. So is his view of our weaknesses, our purpose, and our true selves.
In (Un)Qualified, Steven Furtick explores who God is as the great "I AM" and then helps us discover our own identity. Delving into the story of Jacob, Furtick invites us to acknowledge our weaknesses and ask God to work through them.
The truth is, God has created us to be more, to accomplish more, and to love life more than we ever thought possible. But to become who he has called us to be, we must embrace who we are right now.
(Un)Qualified equips us to face obstacles and failures without losing a sense of purpose. We can have a thriving sense of hope that God is working in us and through us, not in spite of our weaknesses but often as a direct result of them.

Book Information

Hardcover: 224 pages

Publisher: Multnomah (March 1, 2016)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 1601424590

ISBN-13: 978-1601424594

Product Dimensions: 5.4 x 0.8 x 8.4 inches

Shipping Weight: 9.1 ounces (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 4.8 out of 5 stars 430 customer reviews

Best Sellers Rank: #13,351 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #27 in Books > Christian Books & Bibles > Ministry & Evangelism > Discipleship #80 in Books > Christian Books & Bibles > Christian Living > Self Help #135 in Books > Christian Books & Bibles > Christian Living > Inspirational

Customer Reviews

“(Un)Qualified will take you from self-doubt and insecurity to a renewed trust in the God who called and equipped you for his will and purpose.” —Joyce Meyer, Bible teacher and New York Times best-selling author “God doesn’t call the qualified. He qualifies the called. This book will challenge you and encourage you into a life characterized by prayerful dependence and decisiveness — your life will never be the same.” —Mark Batterson, lead pastor of National Community Church, Washington, DC, and New York Times best-selling author of The Circle Maker “Not only does Pastor Steven give voice to the hurt we so often stuff down deep when someone makes us feel as if we’re not good enough, but he also points us back to the only One who can truly measure our potential. (Un)Qualified will strategically and biblically show you that even when we’re overlooked by people, we are handpicked by God to play a part in his magnificent plan. This is such a needed message for today!” —Lysa TerKeurst, president of Proverbs 31 Ministries and New York Times best-selling author “Too often we embrace the fallacy that our successes hang solely on our qualifications. That we — and we alone — are the architects of our accomplishments and the framers of our future. I’ve been in ministry long enough to realize that God delights in using the most unlikely candidates to accomplish his purposes and that our abilities are always secondary to his calling. In (Un)Qualified Pastor Steven Furtick shows how we can partner and participate with God’s calling for our lives, no matter who we are, where we are, or what we think we are lacking.” —Bishop T. D. Jakes, founder and senior pastor of The Potter’s House, Dallas, and New York Times best-selling author “Almost everyone I know battles feelings of insecurity, unworthiness, and self-doubt. I know I do. That’s why Pastor Steven Furtick’s life-changing book (Un)Qualified is a must-read. This power-packed book will build your faith, stir your dreams, and help you see yourself as God sees you. If you have ever battled with feeling unqualified, unprepared, or unsure of yourself, pick up this transformative book and be inspired, because our God uses broken people to do big things.

•Craig Groeschel, senior pastor of Life.Church and author of #Struggles: Following Jesus in a Selfie-Centered World “My friend Steven Furtick is one of the most authentic, passionate people I have ever met. His love for God and for people is nothing short of inspiring. Pastor Steven’s book (Un)Qualified is a must-read for every Jesus follower. In it he reveals how our tendency to fixate on our failures and major in our mistakes ultimately short-circuits our calling. But even more than that, he points us to a personal relationship with Jesus, the One who calls us, equips us, and carries us into our destiny.

•Judah Smith, lead pastor of The City Church, Seattle, and New York Times best-selling author of Jesus Is _____ “All humans strive to be stronger than we really are, better than we really are, and more than we really are. That’s not bad—it just won’t work. And as Steven shows, it leads us even farther away from who we truly are and who we want to become. This book will help you get more comfortable in your own skin, stop the striving, and see the truth of how God’s power flows when we can be real.

•Dr. Henry Cloud, clinical psychologist, acclaimed leadership expert, and best-selling author “In a world distracted and enamored by external qualifications, Pastor Steven’s book is a refreshing reminder that God looks at the heart. When we respond to him in humility and faith, his power turns even our weaknesses into strengths. I am so excited about what God will do in your life as you read and experience the principles in this book! It will change the way you see yourself, talk about yourself, and even pray about yourself.

•Christine Caine, evangelist, author, and founder of The A21 Campaign “In (Un)Qualified my friend Steven Furtick reminds us that God’s qualification system is very different than ours. If you’re anything like me, that’s a welcome reminder and a big relief! In these inspiring pages Steven speaks bold, helpful truth in a humble and honest way. He encourages us to lose the labels we’ve placed on ourselves and live instead in the revelation of a God who can even turn our weaknesses into strengths. This brilliant book really resonated with me, and I know it will with you too.

•Matt Redman, worship leader and Grammy-winning songwriter “To watch the ministry of Pastor Steven Furtick is to watch someone living in his grace zone. He is a remarkable communicator, a passionate church builder, and a lover of truth. I have no doubts that his latest offering, (Un)Qualified, will resonate with each and every person who has ever felt the pull of calling and the inadequacy of their own humanity. This book will encourage and strengthen you as you walk the journey.

•Brian Houston, founder and global senior pastor of Hillsong Church and author of the international best-selling Live, Love, Lead “In a culture obsessed with perception and perfection, (Un)Qualified is a refreshing reminder that God uses even our weaknesses to our advantage. Steven Furtick's latest book is honest, practical, and thoroughly encouraging, and I highly recommend it. It will help you see yourself with more faith and courage than ever before.

•Andy Stanley, senior pastor, North Point Ministries, Atlanta

Steven Furtick is the New York Times best-selling author of Sun Stand Still, Greater, and Crash the Chatterbox. He is the founder and lead pastor of Elevation Church, which since its founding in 2006 has grown to more than twenty thousand attendees at twelve locations. He speaks at major conferences across the United States and around the world. Steven holds a master of divinity degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He and his wife, Holly, have three young children.

I don't know Steven Furtick, but I guess John MacArthur does. During an interview, when asked for a word association with Furtick's name, MacArthur simply replied "unqualified." He did not elaborate. Furtick, like MacArthur, has an M.Div. from a historic, respected seminary. MacArthur does not have any higher earned degrees. MacArthur is about 40 years older than Furtick, so clearly has quite a bit more experience as an author and teacher. So why unqualified? Unqualified for what? I don't know much about the two pastors or their relationship, but MacArthur's comment seemed ungracious and unnecessarily unkind. The cool thing is, MacArthur's comment seems to have bothered me more than it bothered Furtick. In fact, Furtick took MacArthur's assessment as inspiration for his new book, (Un)qualified: How God Uses Broken People to Do Big Things. Furtick writes that we define ourselves with statements of "I am ____." It's that third word that makes the difference. Jesus changed Simon, the fisherman, to Peter, the rock. Unqualified to qualified. In the same way, God wants to take our doubts about who we are and give us a new identity. A new third word. We might tend to focus on our sins and shortcomings, our unworthiness. In Christ, we are made new, accepted by God. We focus on our own sin, and fail to share the love and grace of God with the needy world around us. Furtick writes, "It might be time to figure out who you really are and to value the real you as much as God does." Furtick spends a lot of time talking about Jacob, who required a great deal of re-identification. After deceiving his brother, marrying Rachel and Leah, and heading back toward his homeland, he meets a mysterious stranger with whom he wrestles all night. It was, of course, God, perhaps a pre-incarnate Jesus. At that time, he told Jacob he was going to change his name from Jacob, which means deceiver, to Israel, "triumphant with God." Just like Jacob/Israel, once we accept God's unconditional love and forgiveness, we are free to love and serve. "We don't need to spend one more day trying to prove ourselves, because we already have God's approval through Jesus's gift of righteousness." Furtick has put in faith in God, in God's work in him, not in the word of an elder pastor, no matter how well-known and well-respected. Furtick's writing is engaging, personal, and encouraging. Pick up (Un)qualified and be encouraged. Let God fill in the third word. Thanks to Blogging for Books and the publisher for the complimentary review copy!

This book is going to change the way people see themselves. As someone who has always struggled to feel good enough or qualified for what I feel God has called me to do in this life I know now that God can use my brokenness to reach people. Pastor Steven has allowed me to see that God can turn my mess into a message!

This book was truly liberating for everyone who is too hard on themselves and who makes the mistake of thinking you are never usable by God once you mess up. It's a process and messing up only confirms, it is a shared journey with Christ! We need him and need the humility to recognize that.

I can't fully express how much I love this book. Steven Furtick's writing style is easy to read, and the information is thought provoking and eye opening even to the mature Christian. I highly recommend this book to everyone who thinks they are not good enough the way they are. Realizing that our relationship with Christ is a lifetime "process" and not just a one-time revelation that will change us forever puts my Christian walk into perspective. God doesn't expect me to be perfect just because I'm saved, and He wants me to depend upon Him constantly rather than taking away what I perceive as weakness in my life. Relying on Him is what we were born to do, yet He gives us free will and a choice. So many people feel that following Christ will stifle them and restrict their lives. The earlier we BELIEVE that He only wants good things for us and we trust His guidance, the more accepting of ourselves we will be...and the more peaceful our lives will be. There will be less confusion that comes from constantly trying to change. Who doesn't want that?

Love how Pastor Furtick does not let anything or anyone get in the way of his relationship with the Lord. I ended up searching the well known pastor that labeled Pastor Furtick as "Unqualified" I was in awe to find out who it was, but I believe that God will use anyone how HE pleases and not how MAN thinks they should. Unqualified will inspire and encourage anyone to seek the voice of God. The bible is clear when it states Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not onto your own understanding. I believe Pastor Furtick's devotion to God has opened doors for him, his family and his church. His vision has taken him to levels one can only dream of. God will do what he wants, with who he wants and how he wants, its up to us to accept the call and move forward. Pastor Furtick did just that. God Bless.

I read some reviews before purchasing this book. One reviewer made me defensive and I hadn't even read the book yet! He claimed that this book is too similar to other books by Steven Furtick, so he didn't care for it. Everyone is entitled to their opinion. However, I think that certain books speak to different people at different times in different ways. I have not read anything else written by Furtick, but this book speaks to me during this season of my life. I highly recommend it for people like me who are questioning themselves and are having trouble believing that they are equipped to live a life of purpose.

There's nothing unqualified about this book. The topics Pastor Furtick touches on are things we can all relate to and apply to our life, things like comparison, strengths, and weaknesses, not feeling good enough, etc. This is book that shows you how to let God write your story instead of letting others write it for you. Or even you writing a negative one about yourself. This is one of my favorites alongside Priscilla Shirer's God is Able. It felt like he was having a conversation with me. It was also funny and easy to understand. The funny thing is I had already begun my own journey towards accepting who I was and although I listen to Pastor Furtick's sermons, I never intended to buy this book, but God felt otherwise. I'm glad I did. This is a book I will definitely reread again and again.

Download to continue reading...

(Un)Qualified: How God Uses Broken People to Do Big Things How to Use Graphic Design to Sell Things, Explain Things, Make Things Look Better, Make People Laugh, Make People Cry, and (Every Once in a While) Change the World
Broken Hearts, Fences and Other Things to Mend (A Broken Hearts & Revenge Novel) Clinical Uses of Fluorides: A State of the Art Conference on the Uses of Fluorides in Clinical Dentistry Learners on the Autism Spectrum: Preparing Highly Qualified Educators and Related Practitioners Learners on the Autism Spectrum: Preparing Highly Qualified Educators The Second Decision:: the QUALIFIED entrepreneur TM (Decision Series for Entrepreneurs) Sneaky Green Uses for Everyday Things: How to Craft Eco-Garments and Sneaky

Snack Kits, Create Green Cleaners, Remake Paper into Flying Toys, Assemble ... a Robot Recycle Bin with Everyday Things Chosen by a Horse: How a Broken Horse Fixed a Broken Heart Beautiful Broken Rules (Broken Series Book 1) Broken (Broken Trilogy Book 1) Beautiful Broken Mess (Broken Series Book 2) Broken Dolls of Bali: A True Story of Broken Dreams My Growing-Up Library: Sesame Street Board Books- Too Big for Diapers / Big Enough for a Bed / Too Big for Bottles / Big Enough for a Bike Big Nate Triple Play Box Set: Big Nate: In a Class by Himself, Big Nate Strikes Again, Big Nate on a Roll Farmer Herman and the Flooding Barn: A story about 344 people working together to solve a big, big, big problem God Talks to Me about Thankfulness - Children's Book about Thank You - Thank You God - Catholic Children's Books - God's Word for Children, Happy ... Lord - Padded Hard Back (God Talks with Me) The New Testament and the People of God/ Christian Origins and the Question of God, Vol.1 (Christian Origins and the Question of God (Paperback)) Sneaky Green Uses for Everyday Things: How to Craft Eco-Garments and Sneaky Snack Kits, Create Green Cleaners, and more The Big Book of Paper Crafting: Great Uses for Your Scrapbooking Tools (Leisure Arts #15847)

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help